About Vodafone

We are a leading European and African telecommunications company transforming the way our customers live and work through our technology, platforms, products and services.

Where we operate

We provide mobile and fixed services to over 275 million customers in 15 countries and have over 51 million FinTech users. Through our joint ventures and associates we serve a further 66 million customers and 37 million FinTech users, across five countries. We also partner with mobile networks in over 40 countries outside our footprint. Our portfolio of local markets is supported by corporate services and shared operations, which deliver benefits through scale and standardisation
